MASTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH (MPH)

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Ideal for individuals who are interested in working to help solve the many public health challenges our society faces today, the public health graduate program will expose you to real-world simulations and problem-solving tasks early on in the curriculum. You will work under the guidance of faculty experienced in the fields of health care, policy, and leadership in private, public, or non-profit health industries. The practice-oriented, applied approach is unique and aims to focus on the skills and knowledge areas that prepare you for your work with the ever-changing health care field.

The 42 credit-hour program offers courses designed to fit the schedule of a working professional, and can be completed in just 18 months.

WHERE OUR GRADUATES GO

As a graduate of Fisher’s public health graduate program, you’ll be prepared for meaningful employment in any number of public health careers, including:

- Public health information officer
- Public health inspector
- Health program administrator
- Health educator
- Environmental specialist
- Epidemiologist
- Public health policy analyst

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

- Completed online application
- Baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university
- Official transcripts of all undergraduate work (if applicable)
- Two recommendation forms (which can be submitted online)
- Current résumé
- Professional statement
- Results of the TOEFL (if native language is not English)
- Graduate Transfer Credit Request Form and supporting documents (which can be found online and should be submitted if applicable)

FOR MORE INFORMATION

If you have questions regarding the program or the application process, please contact the Office of Transfer and Graduate Admissions at (585) 385-8064 or grad@sjfc.edu.

www.sjfc.edu
ABOUT THE RALPH C. WILSON, JR. SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. School of Education provides numerous degree options to prepare education professionals for certification and careers in schools, elementary through high school. With the School’s emphasis on social justice, you will learn how to engage your own students as they develop, making a lasting impact on individual lives and the greater community.

ACCREDITATION

The School of Education’s teacher education program is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), a specialized accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation. NCATE transitioned to the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) as the new accrediting body for educator preparation.

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK

To schedule an appointment, attend an Information Session, or observe a class, call the Office of Transfer and Graduate Admissions at (585) 385-8064 or visit the Graduate Admissions website at http:/ /go.sjfc.edu/graduate.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

With undergraduate degree programs in more than 20 disciplines, as well as a master’s degree in applied data science and public health, the School of Arts and Sciences prepares you for careers in a variety of fields. The School provides a liberal arts foundation that will make you more marketable and more effective in the career you choose.

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK

To schedule an appointment or attend an Information Session, call the Office of Transfer and Graduate Admissions at (585) 385-8064 or visit http://go.sjfc.edu/graduate.