M.S. IN MANAGEMENT

Business, communication, and leadership skills are prized commodities in any and all career fields. The St. John Fisher College School of Business offers a Master of Science in Management degree program that provides graduate-level instruction focused on developing ethical, data-driven, client-focused decision-makers.

Designed for business and non-business students alike, the program is well-suited for individuals with a background in the liberal arts, as well as those engaged in science, math, and technology disciplines (STEM). It is ideal for students looking to continue their studies immediately following their undergraduate experience with an eye toward bolstering their career prospects, and individuals seeking career advancement in their respective industries.

Created in consultation with recruitment professionals, the program's curriculum focuses on communication and selling theory, financial and research methodologies, process and project management, and strategic implementation.

PROGRAM FORMAT

The master's in management is a cohort program and is designed to meet the demands of your busy schedule, with classes offered on weekday evenings. That means you also will gain important experience working as part of a team to solve business issues while you hone your management style.

The 30 credit hours necessary for program completion can be earned in 10 months of full-time study.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Cohort format
- Degree completion in 10 months
- Evening and hybrid classes
- 30 credit hours to degree completion

WHERE OUR GRADUATES GO

The School of Business, Fisher's first professional school, is known and respected for preparing job-ready and career-focused students.

School of Business graduates possess a strong ethical bias in their professional demeanor, a solid understanding of current business theories, a practiced skill in applying that learning to real-world situations, and critical-thinking skills to enable them to continue to learn and adapt to a rapidly changing global economy.

Graduates should expect to find gainful, meaningful employment as managers in numerous business sectors, including:

- Marketing
- Retail
- Technical consulting
- Government
- Health care
- Industry
- Education
- Consultative sales
- Non-profit agencies

“A great program for a working professional looking to gain knowledge about being a good manager and strong leader. The hybrid classes were very helpful for a busy work schedule.”

— Tina Abbey '08, '17 (M.S.)
